

ANUBIS CANINE

Elite Canine Training for Military, Law Enforcement, and First Responders

PROTECTION PROVIDED FOR FEDERAL, STATE, COUNTY, AND LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS ALONG WITH FIRST RESPONDERS

Anubis Canine is an elite dog training, procurement and deployment company specializing in bespoke canine acquisition and custom-trained police and first responder dogs. With a unique and well-honed approach established over more than three decades, Anubis is renowned for its expertise in the selection, training and deployment of exclusive European-bred canines. We're not just training dogs - we're building elite, life-saving partnerships between handlers and their canine counterparts.

Anubis Canine has honed its capabilities to deliver working dogs that perform at the highest levels of operational effectiveness with instructors who have decades of experience. We focus on meeting the needs of high-stakes environments such as the military and within governmental and tribal law enforcement and first responders.

Our experience with special operations units has equipped our instructors with a profound understanding of the unique demands placed on Multi-Purpose Canines. With programs ranging from basic and advanced canine training to handler, decoy, and instructor certifications, every course is meticulously designed to ensure your team leaves fully prepared to perform under pressure.

At Anubis we pride ourselves on an ability to partner with other organizations and optimize each program's performance. With our list of preferred performance training and canine training partners or alongside other organizations, our synergistic approach drives mission success.
